

Chapter 6

Pluto - Intense Anger! "I hate your guts!"

Ascendant - Environmental Anger! "I loathe this house!"

M.C. - Ego Anger! "Stay out of my business!"

Node - Association Anger! "Keep my friends out of it!"

The above sentences are the result of planetary love-anger interactions in a love relationship. By developing 'awareness' to your own reactions in a love relationship, you free yourself from being victimized through your partner.

This love-anger reaction may affect you in more ways than you may imagine. Before you read the comprehensive list of these interactions, I would like to define more fully a 'reaction.'

What happens to you when someone gives you a compliment? You have a reaction of 'pleasure' of course. This reaction is a warm feeling that envelopes you momentarily and gives you comfort.

Now ask yourself, what happens to you when someone criticizes you? This again is a momentary feeling that envelopes you. This reaction is one of irritation or possible one of defeat. Nevertheless, you experience a quick twinge of displeasure!

In both cases there has been an 'energy interaction.' One person was the energizer and the other person reacted to the energy or was energized.

When this interaction occurs between you and your neighbor, friend or employer, it will hold less significance than when it occurs between you and your love partner.

The type of individual you are, the configurations in your natal chart, will determine the depth of this reaction.

The consistency of these energy interactions with the love partner will either lift up and encourage or wear down and destroy your spirit; the spirit being that unique motivation part of you.

To illustrate the dynamic effect of these love partnership interactions read the following energy reactions; the ineffective reactions will be given first and then the effective reactions follow in Chapter 7.

It is important to be aware that the loved one creating an ineffective reaction is often doing this in complete innocence; therefore the only way that the love partner may alter their behavior is through first developing awareness of how they affect you.

You will see more clearly how to guide this awareness both in yourself and your partner as you read the following ineffective and effective planetary reactions.

Ineffective Love-Anger partnership reactions

An Ineffective Sun love partner may bring you anger as a result of their self-centered behavior toward you. This partner may be an extremely egotistical partner.

An Ineffective Moon love partner may bring you anger as a result of their constant emotionalism and lack of common sense toward your actions. This love partner may be a very maudlin or a very suffocating partner.

Chapter 6

An Ineffective Mercury love partner may bring you anger as a result of their caustic, nit-picking, critical attitude toward you.

An Ineffective Venus love partner may bring you anger as a result of their unstable love behavior toward you. They may be a very flirtatious or pleasure seeking love partner.

An Ineffective Mars love partner may bring you anger as a result of their rebellious cruel behavior toward you; mental cruelty may sometimes be as difficult to cope with as actual physical abuse. This love partner may be an extremely selfish partner.

An Ineffective Jupiter love partner may bring you anger as a result of their arrogance and extravagance. This partner may be a constant show-off in some cases or a constant spendthrift in other cases.

An Ineffective Saturn love partner may bring you anger as a result of their attempt to inhibitor oppress you. The Saturn love partner may also be an extreme depressant.

An Ineffective Uranus love partner may bring you anger as a result of their sudden, upsetting revolutionary behavior. This partner may be a very obstinate, changeful partner that is unable to bring stability to the relationship.

An Ineffective Neptune love partner may bring you anger as a result of their attempt to confuse and weaken you or simply their constant lifeless attitude. They also may be a very cunning partner.

An Ineffective Pluto love partner may bring you anger as a result of their attempt to control and dominate you. This may be an intensely domineering partner.

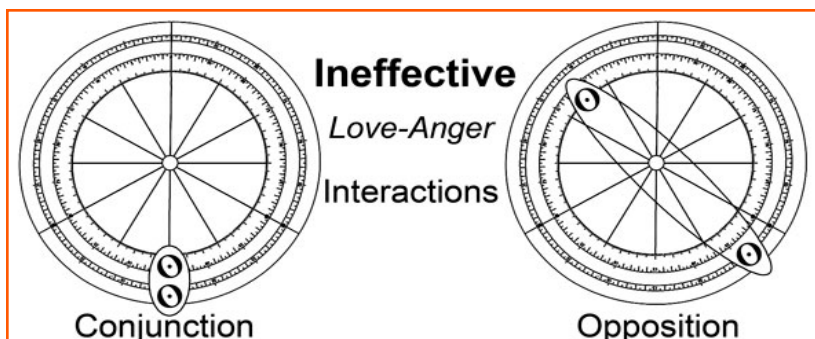

Ineffective Love-Anger Energy

Now read the disastrous effect of Ineffective planetary energy from your love partner to you! Of course, this analysis is based on your love partner's natal planets in contact with your natal planets by conjunction or by opposition using the 90° circle.

(The format for following synastry illustrations uses the 90-degree circle to show Synastry contacts by Conjunction and Synastry contacts by Opposition.

Synastry is the study of relationships, that is, the scientific comparison of two birth charts or of two horoscopes. Refer to the author's text Midpoint Synastry for further reference)
