Venus Lovelife Mysteries

Summary: Connie's Venus contact to her Sun accentuates a 'loving' individuality and makes love vital to her.

She is a romantic (Ve/Ur) with thoughts of love (Ve/Me) plus an emotional attitude (Ve/Mo) toward love.

Disappointments are inevitable because of the unreal (Neptune) attitude toward happiness (Jupiter) in love (Venus). Too much is given to love and this is not a realistic approach.

Mars/Saturn will discipline and stabilize in order to develop a true love relationship. If there is not sufficient discipline then Saturn will corrupt and pervert the relationship. Love will play a part in the development of her ego (Ve = Ma/M.C.).

Now read the following case study and see how aptly this simplistic keyword interpretation describes Connie's lovelife!

HISTORY: Blighted Love Affair - Connie and Scott

After seven years of secret meetings and a back-street love affair, Connie wanted an end to this way of life. Still, she could not make the decision to leave him.

Connie met Scott when she was 26 years old. He was a fascinating older married man with charm personified as shown by his Sun/Mercury in Libra and Venus in Leo.

At the time she met him, transiting Neptune was making several contacts to her natal chart. Neptune contacted her Mars, which idealized and weakened her energy, and her Venus/Saturn midpoint, which in an effective manifestation indicates a sensitive love and discipline, or in an ineffective manifestation, tells of disappointing love and perversion.

Part Two: Your Unique Love Pattern

Last, Neptune contacted her Jupiter/Ascendant, which would bring either a sensitive idealistic contact to expand her environment, or an undermining contact into her environment that would expand her life deceptively.

Transiting Jupiter was contacting her Venus/Sun by opposition and accentuated the ineffective Jupiter expansion in a love relationship.

Her Moon/Uranus square Venus emotional nature has an exceptional quality of independence in its search for love. Moon/Uranus gives a progressive or a revolutionary twist to the love union through its contact to Venus.

The Mercury mental contact conjunct Venus trine Moon/Uranus may mean love will tie in with the individual's uniquely Uranian interest in life. They both shared an intense interest in the metaphysics and did public speaking together on this subject.

Connie had always been burdened with family problems. Saturn/M.C., a part of her fixed grand cross, gave enormous responsibility through the family. She desperately wanted to escape this oppression in her life, but she did not have the resolve to separate.

Her Gemini Ascendant confers a true Gemini vacillation. Mutables on the Ascendant are notorious for being unable to make a decision, so Scott made the decision for her. He left his wife, rented an apartment for Connie, and convinced her to move in with him. This was not the first apartment he had shared with a lover during his married life.

situation, He found her a job in his business. This work along with the public speaking they did together, formed her whole life. The sexual relationship tied in with her ego.

If Connie broke off the relationship, she was out of both jobs.

Now, seven blighted years later Connie longed for more than the grim emptiness of sitting alone on the holidays while her lover dined with his family. She hated not being able to be seen with him in public.

His children were grown and yet Scott claimed to be tied to his unhappy marriage not so much by his wife's financial threats but most strongly tied by his daughter's traditional thinking.

Why his daughter's thinking? Chart comparison revealed his daughter's Pluto to be in contact with his Venus within one degree!

The Total Keyword Synastry Interpretation Chart (T.S.I.) in the author's book, Midpoint Synastry Simplified, tells you that a Pluto/Venus contact between charts always indicates a 'challenge' or a 'domination' of the lovelife!

Excerpt "Another's PLUTO on your VENUS"

Effective: Another's Pluto on your Venus challenges your love expression or your creative expression

Ineffective: Another's Pluto on your Venus controls or dominates your love expression or your creative expression."

In this case the daughter dominated the Libra father's thinking and as a result, his lovelife!
